The Andrea Mead Lawrence Lodge is the result of a unique collaborative relationship between the Vermont Adaptive Ski & Sport Foundation and the Pico Ski Education Foundation. Located in Killington, VT, this beautiful new facility houses new separate headquarters for each of these non-profit organizations.

The new building was designed and built in a style similar to the surrounding Ski Lodge buildings, including massive perimeter decks that connect the new building to the two Lodges it was positioned between.

Unusual particulars of this project included working with two separate Owners and coordinating the process. Additionally N&B agreed to play a significant role in helping to coordinate the fundraising process which included procuring and managing "in kind" services.
